"EXPRESS YOURSELVES"

With everything we do here at Marshall, we express ourselves. Whether we show it by a look, voice or action, we're trying to transmit to the other person the way we feel about something.

When we think of expressing ourselves, we often think of putting into words an idea. There are times when we must express ourselves by means of action, as the expression of a feeling.

The Marshall Faculty expresses joy when they feel the students have gained the equivalent knowledge of an academic year.

The Seniors express sincerity as they strive to make preparations for the future. The Juniors express the desire to become Seniors after three years of waiting. The Sophomores express gratitude as they float through their second year.

We all convey expressions no matter what our status may be. So let's go ahead and express ourselves!!

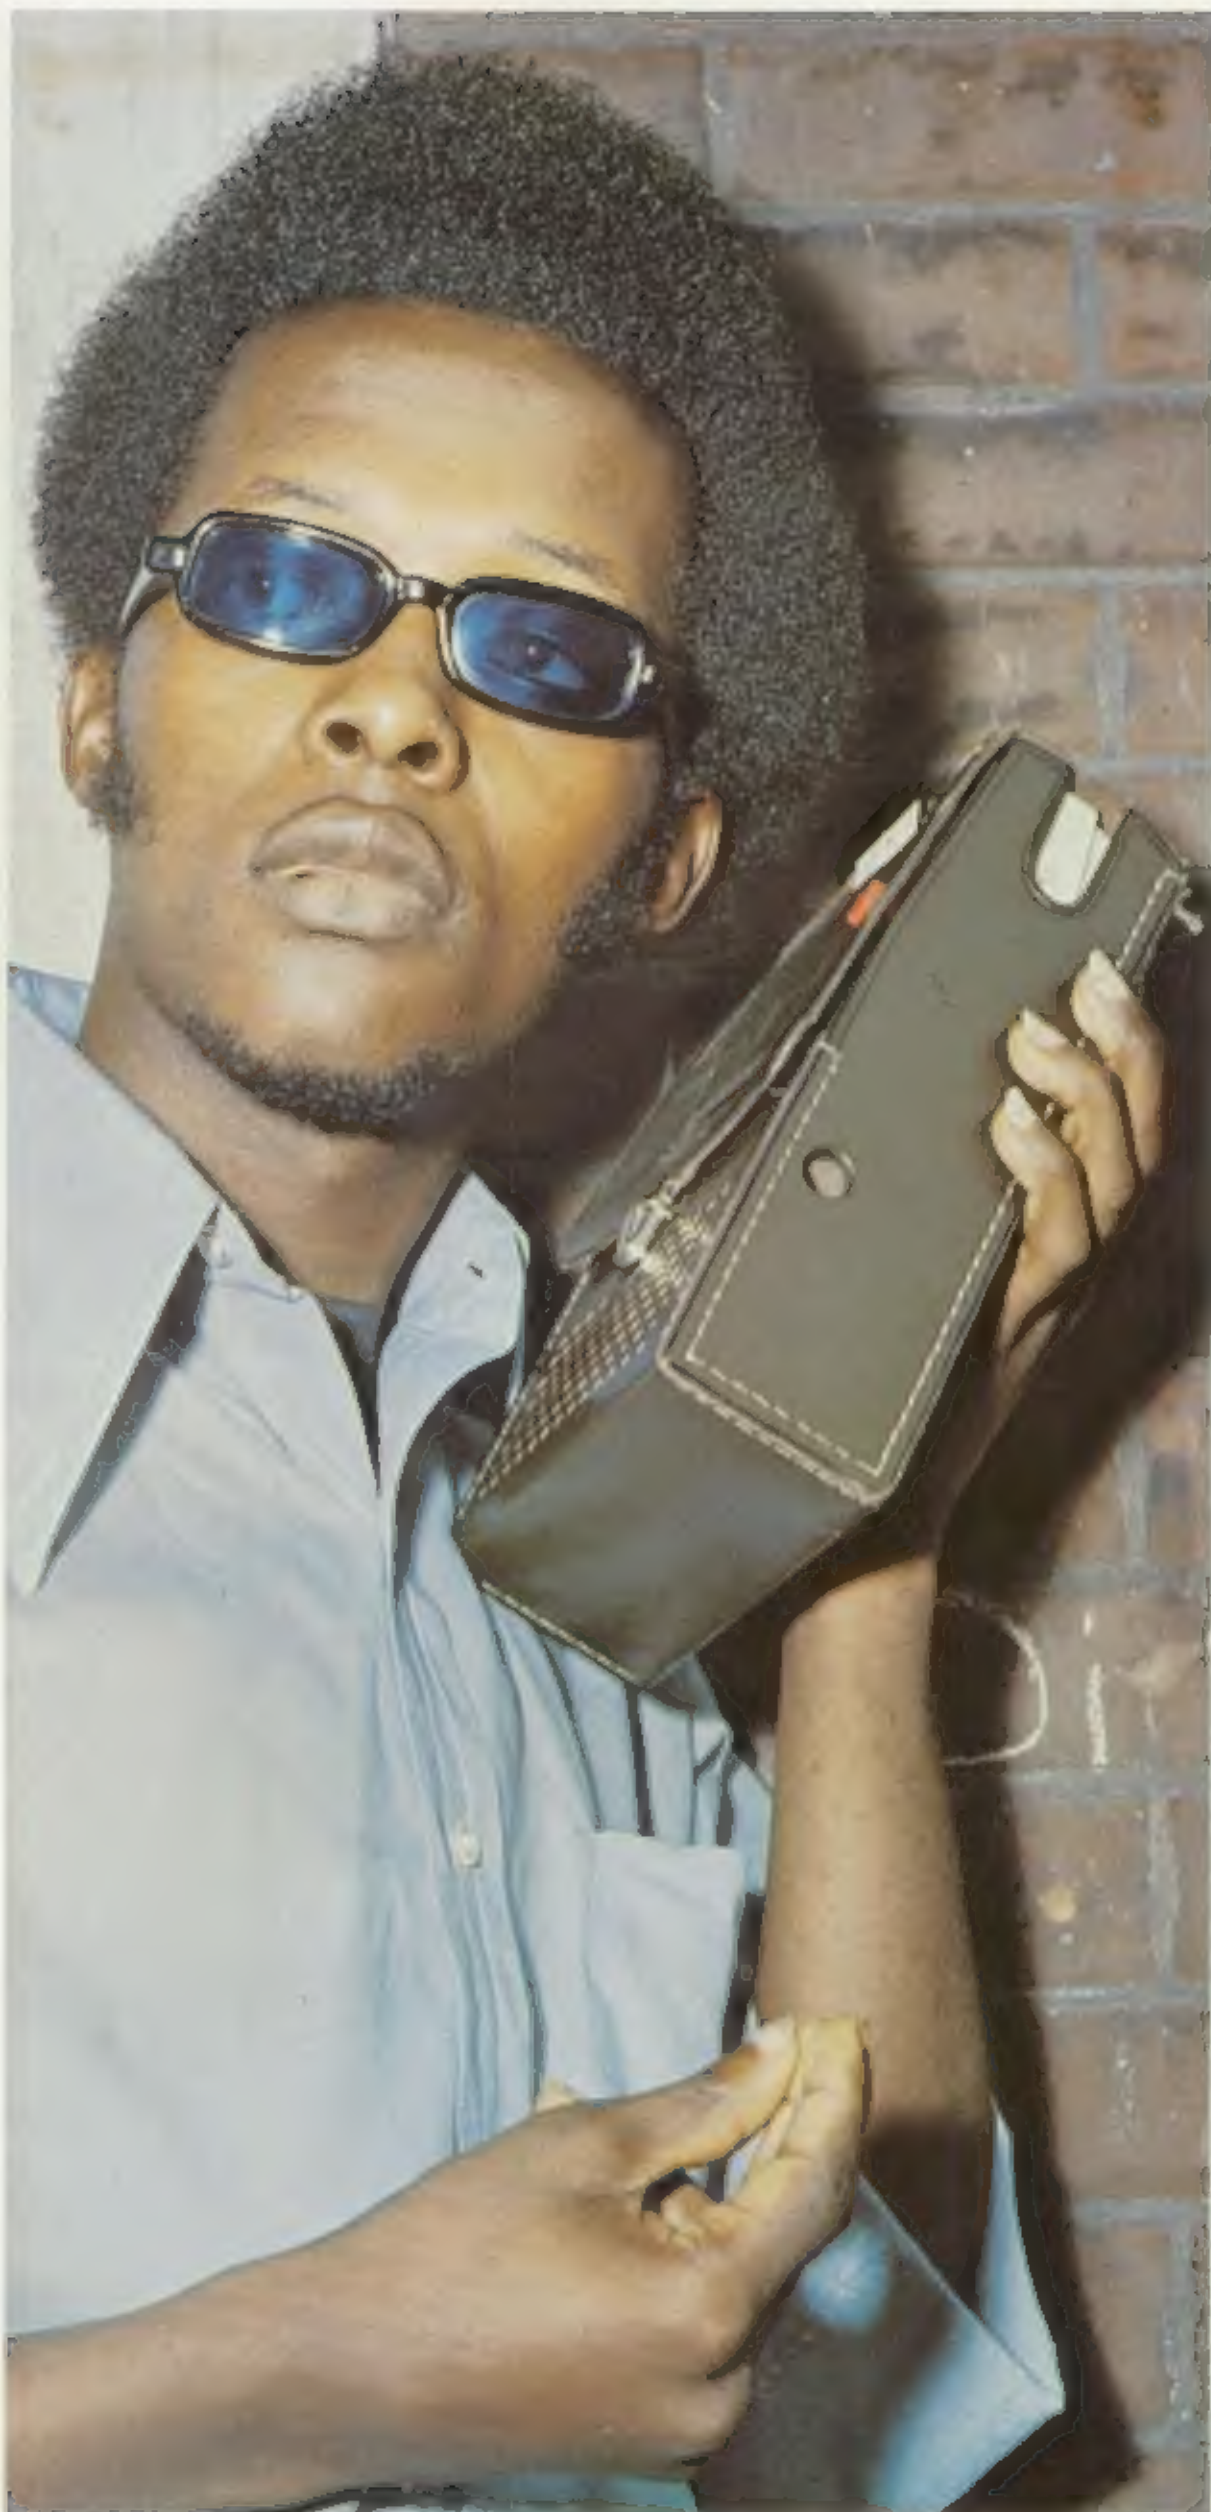

Jannis Moore

Be somebody!

Dig--without communication,
Marshall would not be a school.
Imagine a school without language.
Language makes you and me,
he and she----into "we",
Communication puts us "together".

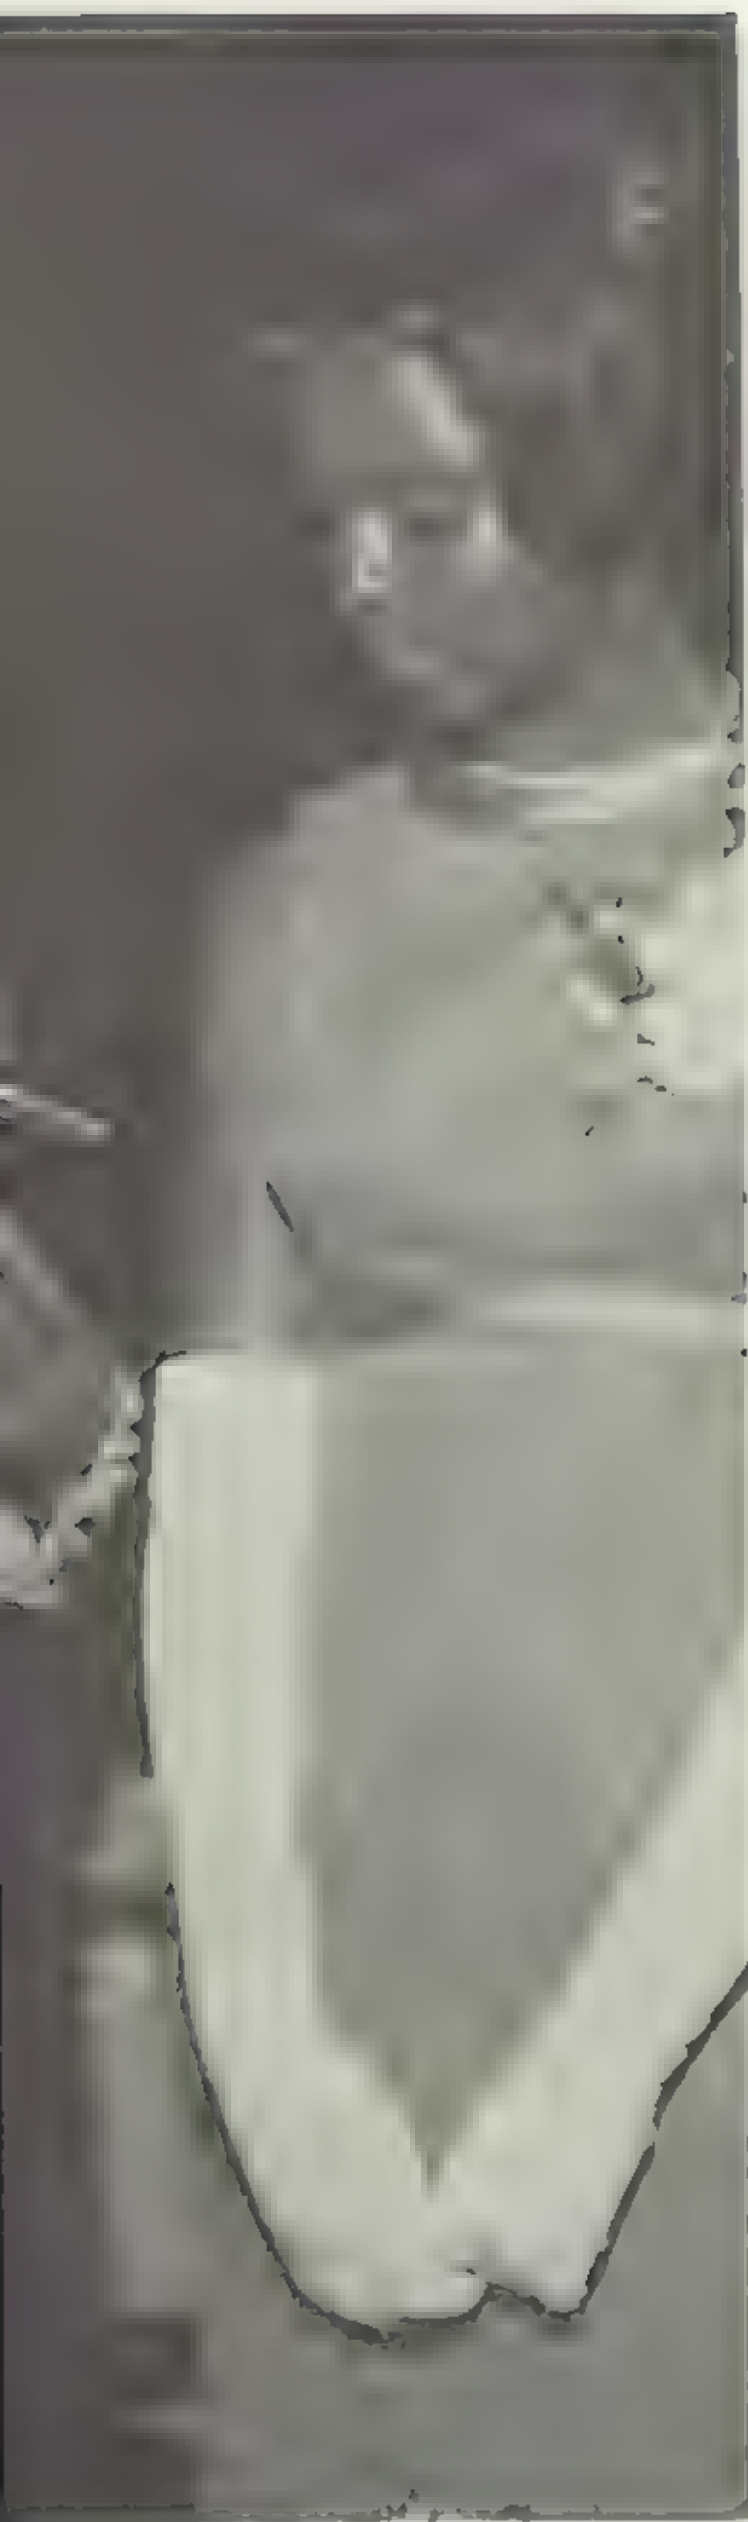

"Here I Go Again"

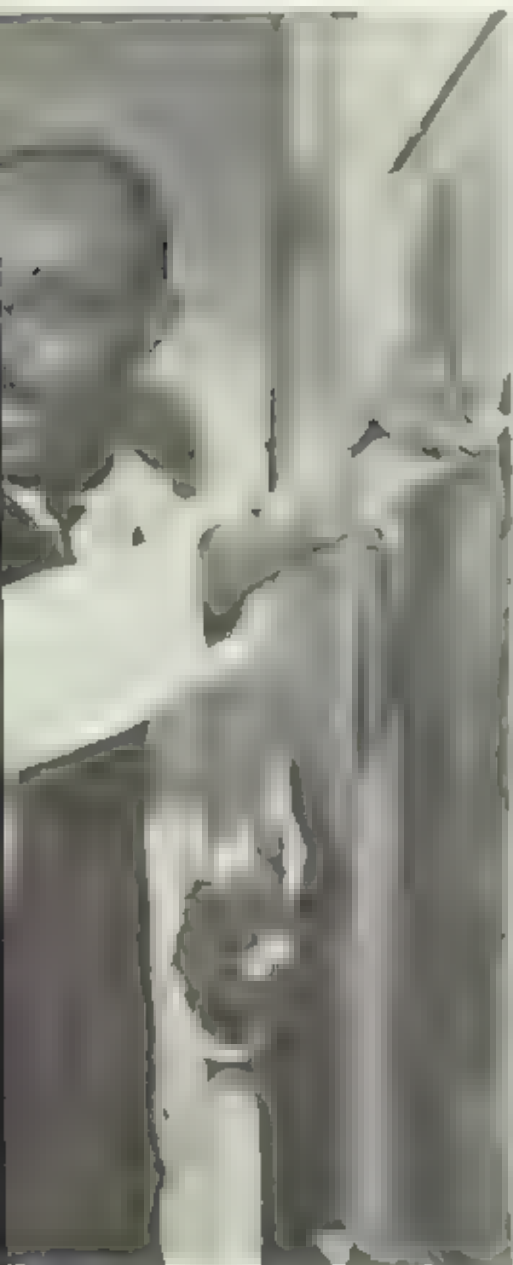

It's just one of those days.

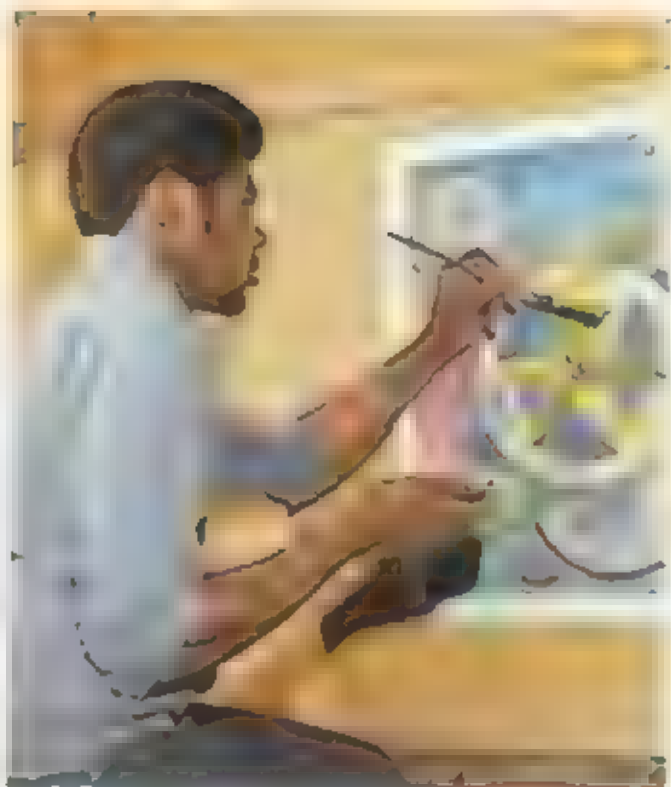

With everything we do,

we express our lives

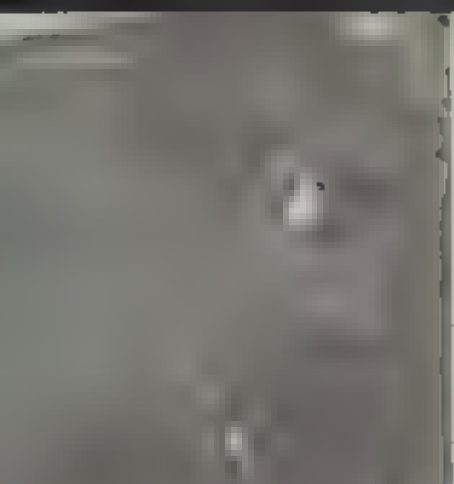

HAPPENINGS

THE MOVEMENT SOLUTIONS

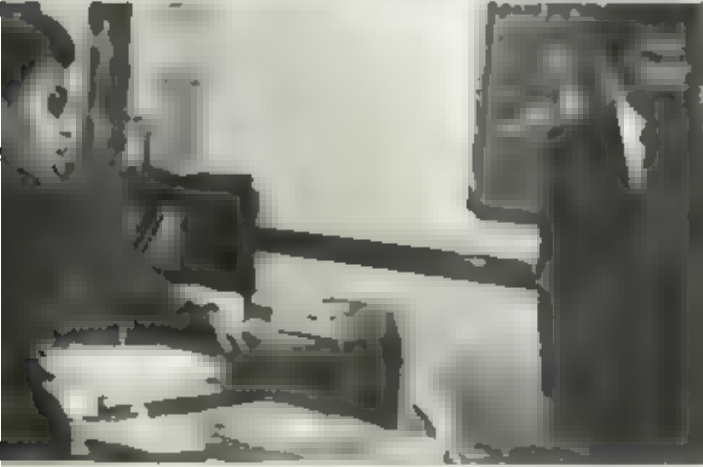

at John Marshall on Tuesday, February 23rd, presented a variety of young Black performers - singers, dancers, instrumentalists - getting of the soul that Black students have. Soul Movement was a completely spontaneous prod of the producer, Bradley Thomas, a senior. There, rehearsals are unnecessary. And to a certain extent, the performers proved that this is true. From the South and James Brown to two performers who specially appeared to the audience. However, even young Black people expressing themselves in a soulful manner rehearsal in order to give a good show the entertainers must have rehearsal enough to have together the show and draw the audience into. Fortunately, this was not done in Soul Movement because with a few rehearsals, the show could have been great.

CONFRONTATION

STUDENT: "Three demands that we are making are: 1) The immediate reinstatement to class of all students expelled under this policy, 2) The removal from the records of all students expelled and the fact that they were expelled from school under this policy, 3) The right to due process for all students in the future before they are expelled. These are the only demands that we are here to deal with.

ADMINISTRATOR: "I think that whatever you have to say, you should be aware of some of the terms you are using. There are some facts that you are misrepresenting. What we have done is to say that those students who are cutting class and walking the corridors without a pass will be excluded from school. Now you say that those students were not informed of this. A week before the day of the exclusions, we picked up people. We took those people to the same room, 129 and talked to them about cutting classes, we talked about not going to class on time, and a number of things. All of those people were in there, just as you happened to have been there the other day. They were told that if they were cutting, they would be excluded from class.

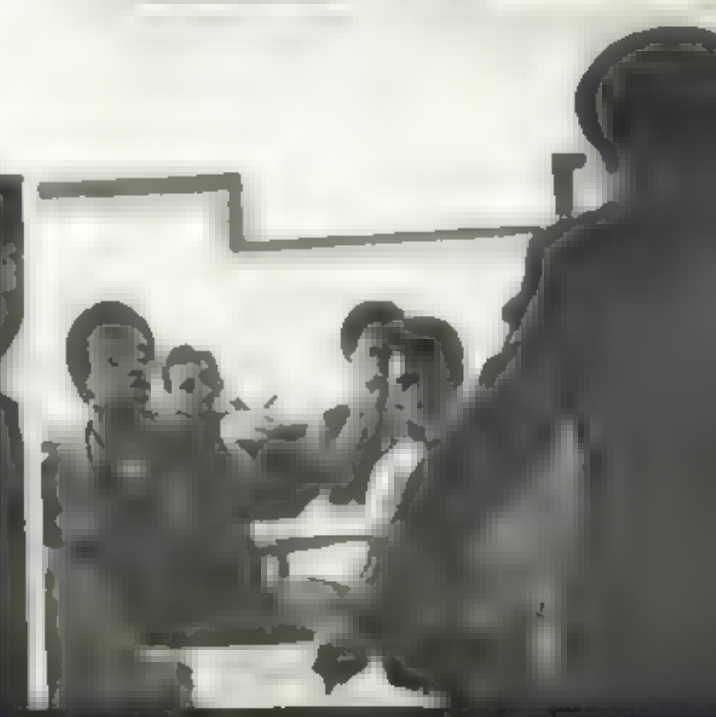

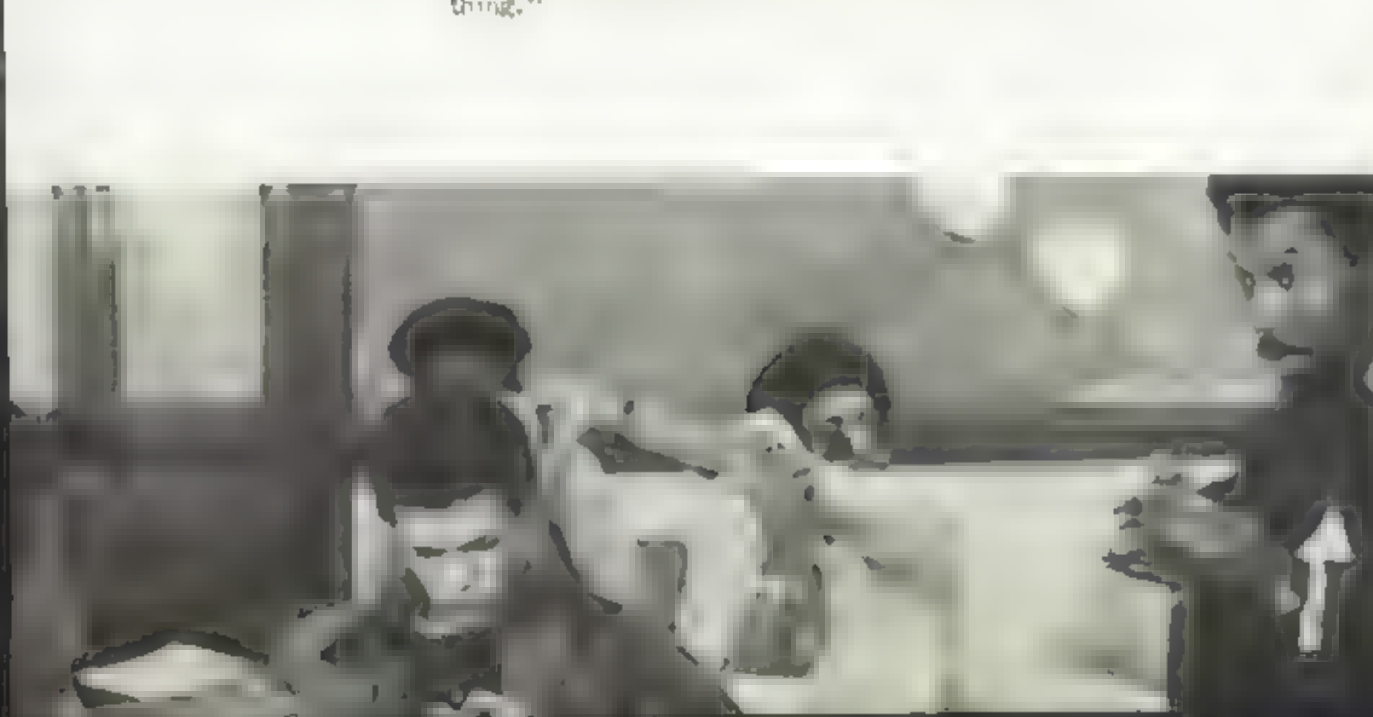

STUDENT: "Some students were unaware of their suspension notices and parents were not notified about the suspension. That was not due process. The administrator cannot solve the problem of students being in the halls overnight just by coming out and dictating to students that they should be in class. The problem is much broader than the administration makes it seem. In light of the fact that this meeting represents a cross-section of the community and the fact that the student government supports the demands and the fact that the delegation is here and the students in the hall support these demands. They are very simple. I think it should be any kind of long discussion because the people out there want to know what is happening and the purpose of the delegation in here is to find out if the demands are going to be met and then report the results to the other students. We can move on from there... There is a general crisis in the whole education system. I think you are very much aware of that. This crisis can't be solved overnight without a conscious effort of the students, the administration, the faculty and parents. I think you fail to understand that. You don't solve historical oppression or what have you overnight. We have been programmed into this type of institution, program and to react like you want us to act. You don't solve this overnight.

ADMINISTRATION: "Black students and Black administrations should have the same goals, and we are meeting here... which is something very important. We shouldn't be afraid of the students, we shouldn't be mad at the students when they... about a problem. Students shouldn't be afraid of the administration, we shouldn't be mad at the administration when it is trying to... a problem. I feel there is a great misunderstanding and we should try to iron it out as between Black students and Black administration. There can be misunderstandings but they should be ironed out because we are one. Black people are not perfect and nobody is expecting you to be perfect. There seems to be some hostility here...there shouldn't be. Actually, it's getting to be more of a personal thing and we need to iron it out right now."

STUDENT: "I kind of hope I am backing up what was just said. We have got to solve this kind of thing here without all this arguing. We all know what happened or what caused us to assemble here. I know what I am here about. If what happened or caused us to assemble can make us start working on some changes, then this could be a beautiful thing."

TEACHERS' THINGS

January 1970 and our teachers, along with the other Union teachers of Chicago, declared a "holiday."

They went on strike for "educational improvements" for us students.

But we had a holiday, man!

Look at them! Huddled 'round the garbage can, tryin' to catch a little heat from the burnin' wood.

Clothes gettin' soaked with smelly smoke.

We got a holiday.

They get "educational improvements."

Schools continue while faculty, staff, and students come and go. If we experienced complete turn-overs every few years, we would not be able to perpetuate Marshall tradition. It is for that purpose that we are setting aside these three pages, expressing our thanks to office staff, faculty, and maintenance staff for continued years of excellent performance. Representing our faculty is Mr. Goldberg, a man who has been on the Marshall scene for a number of years and, due to his quiet, calm disposition, often goes unheralded. Seven ladies are veterans of our office staff and, perhaps more so than any other seven people at Marshall, keep our school on an even keel. Mr. Campbell of our janitorial staff knows Marshall as well as anyone else, but how many Marshallites know him? Many members of our staff have given us many good years of their talents. Let these nine people represent our gratitude to the many.

Friendly smiles and knowledgeable service make Marshall High School's office one of the best in the system. Each desk has a particular function. Bulletins, reports, and orders are typed; money is collected; the payroll, student records, student programs, keys, teachers' mailboxes and the telephones are maintained by the office staff.

Mrs. Gloria Hunter is the acting principal's secretary. She has been working at Marshall for ten years. She started in September of 1960, and has been working faithfully ever since. Mrs. Hunter likes her job very much and feels a strong loyalty towards Marshall. According to Mrs. Hunter, one of the most rewarding aspects of her job is getting the opportunity to meet so many interesting people. Because of her efficiency and length of service, she holds the responsibility of being in charge of the entire staff of the main office.

Miss Bernice Perry of the office staff has been at Marshall for over nine years. One of her most important tasks is the preparation of the payroll. She is also responsible for placement of day-to-day substitutes as they report for duty. Miss Perry makes note of the fact that she has seen several Marshall graduates return as teachers. Meeting new people each day is a source of enjoyment to her.

Mrs. Marie Harrow has been working at Marshall for over seven years. Her responsibilities include tabulation of monthly summaries, and various tasks within the program office.

KEEPING TRADITION

Mrs. Easter Wilson is the secretary to Mr. T. Cunningham, one of our assistant principals. She has been here for six years, and has found each year to be quite enjoyable. During these six years, she has been a record clerk for teachers as well as students. Like many Marshallites, Mrs. Wilson finds much pleasure in meeting new and interesting people.

In her six years at Marshall, Patricia Ann Green has given us conscientious, efficient service. Mrs. Green was born in Houston, Texas, but came to Chicago at an early age. She attended our own Marshall High, Crane Junior College, and Marlon Business College. Mrs. Green holds a degree in Economics. Before coming to Marshall, she worked for the Chicago Police Department as a clerk-typist. She is now the treasurer of Marshall.

Mrs. Lorraine Bujewski got her first job with private industry. She soon left that job because she could not find a feeling of togetherness with her fellow workers. From there she came to Marshall and has spent five happy years, efficiently performing her clerical duties. Mrs. Bujewski feels that Marshall is one of the best high schools in the city. She states that, "The students who make up the student body are intelligent, enthusiastic, and friendly. I'm happy and proud to be associated with Marshall, its faculty, and staff."

Mrs. Carrie Young came to Marshall in September of 1965. She is married and has seven children. Her duties at Marshall include typing the daily bulletin, helping with the accounts, ordering textbooks, and distributing the mail. Mrs. Young has been quite pleased with both her job and Marshall High.

Interviews for this section were conducted by Paul Blake, Doris Henton, Michal Johnson, and Deborah Murphy.

Irving Goldberg has been one of Marshall's finest teachers for over fifteen years. His first job was as an accounting and bookkeeping substitute teacher. He enjoyed his work and when permanent position was available, he was glad to stay on. Mr. Goldberg says that teaching is a very rewarding exercise, and that it is a challenge. Most of all, he likes working with young people. He likes helping them solve their problems and giving them the skills they need to continue in the future.

Mr. Goldberg was born in Chicago. He attended Shelbert Elementary School and Manley High School, where he played on basketball and swimming teams. His college work was done at Herzl Junior College, and Northwestern University. Mr. Goldberg holds a Masters degree in accounting.

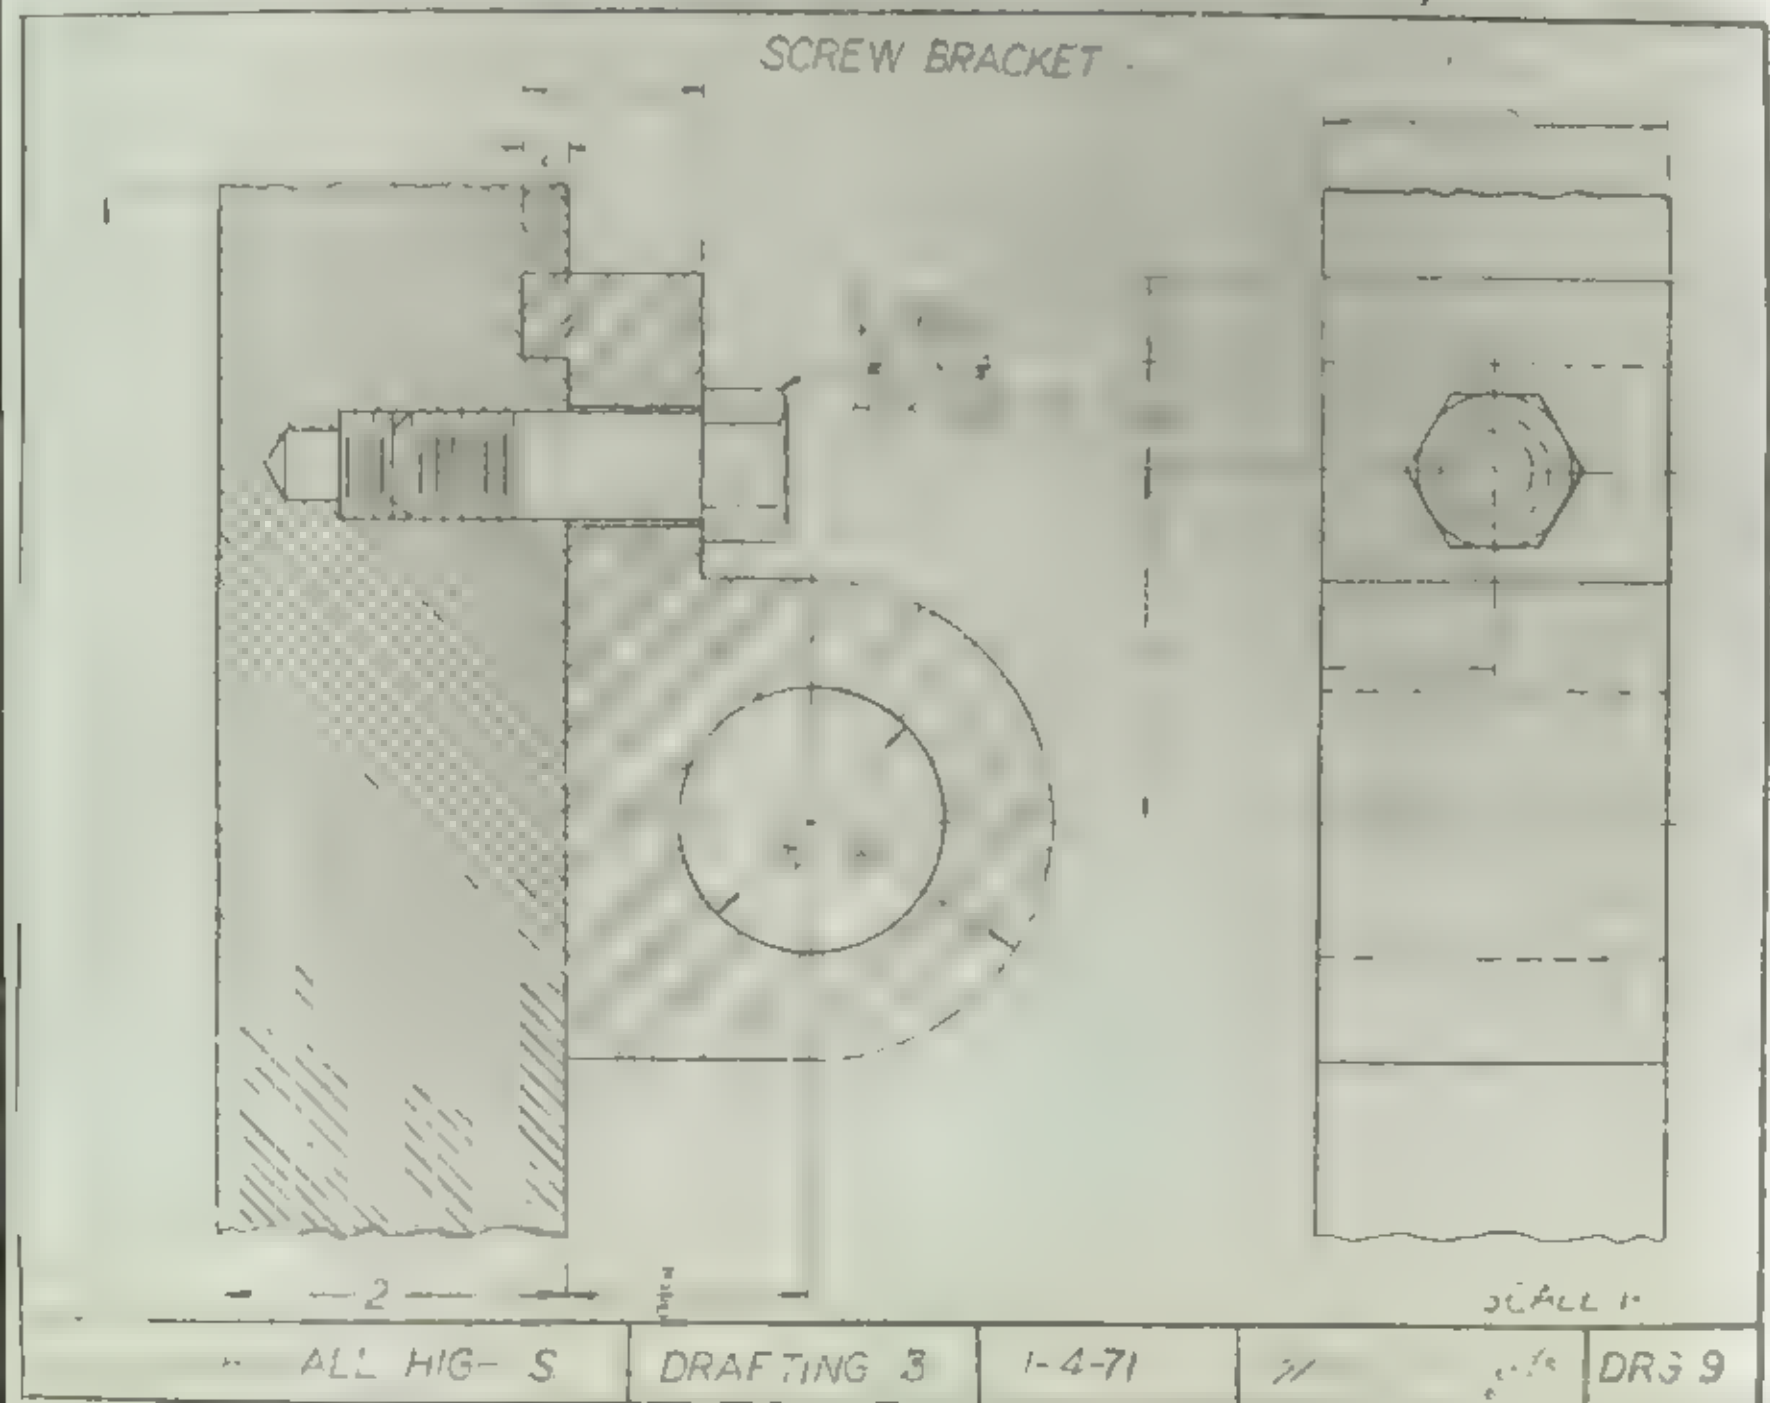

During the Second World War, Mr. Goldberg served for three years in the 66th Infantry Division. He states that this experience helped him to appreciate what we have in America.

Mr. Andrew Campbell came to work as a janitor at Marshall in 1962. He works from three o'clock in the afternoon until eleven-thirty at night. Mr. Campbell has some views about the students at Marshall. He feels that they are good students with good intentions, but that they could be more careful with the school property. However, when asked if he would rather work at another school, Mr. Campbell emphatically replied, "No!" Mr. Campbell says that this school is like a second home to him.

REMEMBER

DORIS THOMAS

The tragedy of the senseless death of Doris Thomas is, certainly, felt most strongly by her immediate family and close friends. But please, let us all stop, think, feel. Doris' death involved all of us, because everytime that a young brother or sister dies, from whatever cause, we, as a group, are diminished in beauty and power.

Doris' death is an urgent plea to us to get ourselves together.

GET YOUR SHARPIE!

SHARPIE DANCE

Mr. Sharpie, Odeather Brooks, Miss Sharpie, Mary Byrd

The Sharpie Dance has been a tradition at Marshall for over ten years, and '71 Seniors are at it again. Styling in their glad rags, hangin' loose, and gettin' down, Marshallites do their thing. All hang-ups and grips are let loose, and the Seniors jam, jam, jam!

MY LAST YEAR AT MARSHALL

COMMENTS FROM SENIORS

My senior year at Marshall I regret. I don't tell you about the cold January hills but I don't get started about the lunchroom that day it probably snowed ground beef in the soup shops on Thursdays and plates that fly? How about the bath room always crowded and filled with smoke? Should stand with the hallway and the traffic the bus no direction. When the hall things? The hall because I was back with people bumping into me and speak if them during the lecture on their shoes.

There has been some good about this year but it's not what I wanted. Right on, Young Black people who get it together assemblies and rallies. Most Movement plays and Black theater shows. Where it is as Black people have expressed themselves. There have been the times that I have enjoyed. Marshall has changed me. It has made me realize even more that we are all Black--we have the same goals. My complaints seem silly as I wait for graduation. My day is coming!

Burma Goin

Cold classrooms, broken glass,
Students in the lunchroom, cutting class,
Paint peeling off the walls,
Security guards patrolling the halls,
Clock on the wall that won't work,
Books and equipment as old as dirt,
Winter is here, but there's no heat,
Marked-up desk and broken seats,
Roses and rats play tag in the halls,
When they get tired, they retreat to the walls,
My last year at Marshall has been a trip,
One more like this one, I think I'll flip.

Gwen Sykes

My last year at Marshall has passed by the quickest, and I have enjoyed it the best. It's a year of happiness and a little togetherness. My last year has also been sad and one because I know I'll graduate in June and leave Marshall. I'll no longer be a student here, but I'll always be a part of Marshall wherever I go, whatever I do.

Delores Y. James

This is my last year at Marshall--
A big senior, ah, ain't that a kick?
A lot of fun, no,
Just toil and strife,
And a dash of excitement here and there,
Clubs and their activities all going around,
With everyone becoming less graduate-bound,
But, by the end of the year,
I'll have had my share,
Of all the fun, laughter, and excitement in the city,
Cause I'll have gotten over all of Marshall's
Education, kooks, and despairs.

Greta Montgomery

My senior year at Marshall has been my favorite. I don't tell you about the cold January hills but I don't get started about the lunchroom that day it probably snowed ground beef in the soup shops on Thursdays and plates that fly? How about the bath room always crowded and filled with smoke? Should stand with the hallway and the traffic the bus no direction. When the hall things? The hall because I was back with people bumping into me and speak if them during the lecture on their shoes.

Richard Sellers

My last year at Marshall was disappointed by others, and disappointed myself. Almost every team forgot how to play. The teachers forgot how to teach and I forgot to go to class. Feeling myself was the problem before the end. I fooled everyone at Marshall.

Toretta Climons

My last year at Marshall was the hardest year of my life. I had to work for my grades. There were no more getting away with it. There would be no more and stories about getting away with it. My teachers had all gotten up to that. I had to go to class if I wanted to graduate.

Thomas Walker

My senior year was more in line with what I had expected. The usual senior activities, the usual courses, the usual grades, the usual people, the usual physical surroundings--they were all there but something had changed. The atmosphere. In my first years at Marshall there was a considerable amount of tension. Teachers were tense and seemed to fight with each other, and the administration. Students were tense, becoming aware of the power and beauty of their Blackness, and confrontations were many. This year, the tension seems to have greatly reduced. It's good or it's bad thing, which the future will determine. One thing is for sure--Marshall will never be the same.

Janice Killingsworth

My senior year finally here, how almost good. It's not as exciting as I hoped it would be, but it's mine. I'll only pass this way once, so I'll take it as it is!

Gloria Smith

My senior year has impressed me very little. Ever since my freshman year, I had been dreaming of becoming a senior. Since becoming a senior, reality does not compare with the dream. I guess dreaming of becoming a senior, and actually being a senior, is the difference between dreaming and reality.

Darlene Theresa Ford

My first year at Marshall, I mentioned that the school is steadily falling apart and that we, the students, have been changing. We're really coming together in more ways than one.

Nelson Bosley

I don't tell you about the cold January hills but I don't get started about the lunchroom that day it probably snowed ground beef in the soup shops on Thursdays and plates that fly? How about the bath room always crowded and filled with smoke? Should stand with the hallway and the traffic the bus no direction. When the hall things? TO REMIND

YOU OF MARSHALL

Je crois que l'exposition de mode, ici, à Marshall, a été une affaire des plus remarquables. Il y avait beaucoup de nouveaux styles. J'avais des robes pailletées, des robes bouffantes des jupes pleines, et des gilets. Plus la plupart des gens ont vraiment apprécié la revue des robes pailletées. Plus important encore, les robes étaient parfaites pour les vêtements.

I believe that the fashion show was one of the best happenings at Marshall. There were many new outfits. There were hennings, and skirts, gowns, and knickerbockers. The majority of the people want to know what the hennings were being modeled. Most important, they had the right place to model these outfits.

Le livre de Marshall a lancé une exposition de mode. Plusieurs étudiants ont participé à ce livre de mode. Mais un étudiant se a été au grand rôle dans cette affaire était Larry Hope. Il a organisé et créé une robe qui fut présentée à l'exposition. L'ouvrage dit, mais il n'y a pas de talent de ne soit pas via nient ce jour se passe.

Marshall High School students led a fashion show. Various students participated in this Fashion Parade. One student who played a most important role was Larry Hope, who designed and modeled a dress which was modeled in the show. Anybody who says Marshall has no talent truly doesn't know what's going on.

WE REMEMBER ED BARNES

Mr. Barnes was one of the great people of Marshall. He was a man that the students could always depend upon. He spent time with all of the students, helping them in every way he could. Many Marshall students received their first jobs from Mr. Barnes, when he was in charge of the NYC program. We will always remember Mr. Barnes as our very understanding friend.

Nathaniel Earl
Dale Morris
Jackie Sims

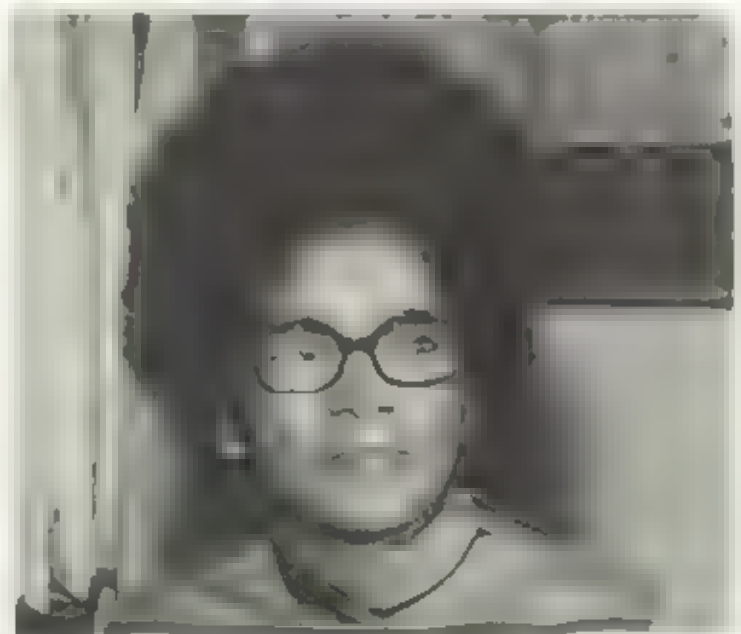

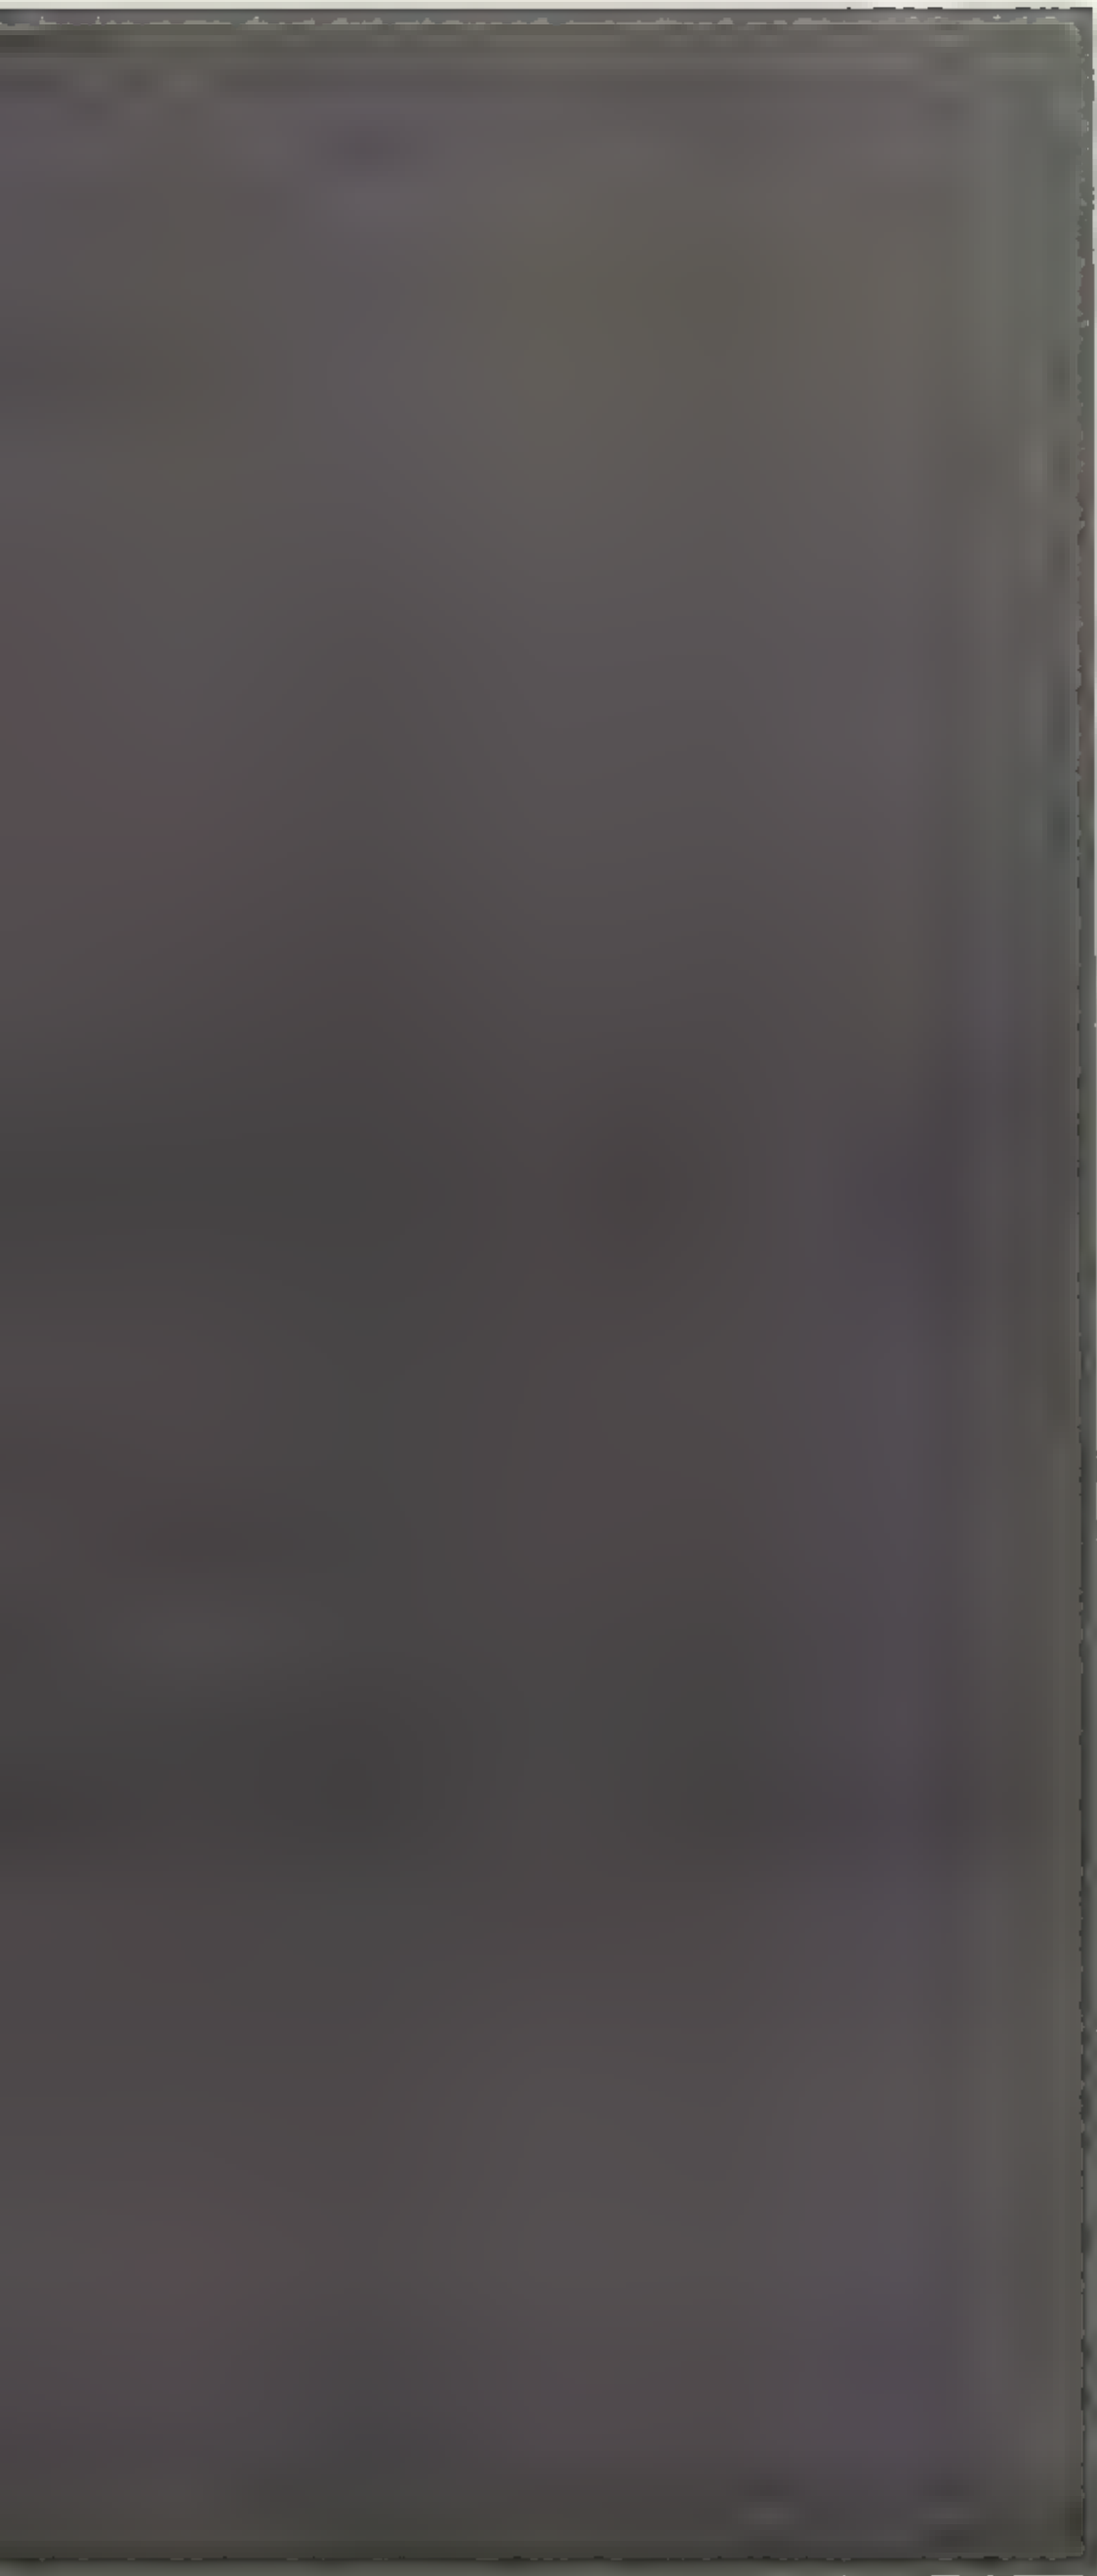

Ed Barnes was a leader in his school, his profession and his community. Ed was also a true friend who always had time for people. He gave of his own time and money to assist students when they needed help. But what we remember most about Ed was his courage. When asked to take on a tough job, he didn't hesitate. In all solutions his concern was never with doing or saying what might be popular at the moment but in doing what he knew was right; and somehow he always managed to rise above pettiness, and find a solution that was beneficial to all concerned. This ability to understand and relate to people also enabled him to very effectively serve as Marshall's Union delegate for ten years.

Forty-two percent of our graduates enroll in colleges and universities--the highest percentage of all inner-city high schools. But this is still not a high enough number. Increased emphasis must be placed on making our students aware of the opportunities available to them, and this should begin at the sophomore level. Better yet, why not at the freshmen level? Admittedly, more and more students are attending college, but with each year, the competition becomes increasingly intense. I do wish more students would use the resources of their counselor. After all, that's why he's there.

What's happening at Marshall? Plenty! Championship games, concerts, award-winning art, fund raising, creative writing, preparation for college, the Yearbook, and more, much more. It's too soon to tell what the 70's will bring to Marshall, but the old Commando spirit goes on, invincible. At any hour of the day or evening, in any part of the building, students and teachers can be found working..working together..keeping that service alive and strong.

Senior Advisor is a misleading and uneven title. It suggests pictures of an authority dispensing counsel, of an altogether knowledgeable person working for and giving to those less capable, less sure. It is uneven for it contains merely a fraction of the working, sharing, learning, planning, and growing with that has occurred between the accomplished, bold, and beautiful Class of '71, and their senior advisor. Sincere best wishes to each of you!

...Mrs. C. Scott

Social studies teachers place a great deal of emphasis in the classroom on developing a student's ability to think critically. We also stress student awareness of current problems, particularly as they relate to the individual student.

The highlights of the season were the victory over City Champion Harlan plus victories over arch rivals Crane and Farragut. The team traveled to Gary where they lost a close game to Gary Roosevelt and lost a 3 pt. decision to Gary West Side, Indiana's second rated team. Other trips included very close exciting games at Galesburg, Rock Island, Moline and Quincy, all rated among the top teams in the state.

With a little more experience and size, this team very easily could have been as good as any team in the state. The team had excellent speed and great outside shooting. They played a very aggressive pressing defense which allowed them to explode at times for a rapid succession of points, making them a very exciting team to watch. A very rugged schedule plus an inability to rebound with the good big teams prevented them from having truly outstanding season record.

THE FOOTBALL TEAM

RED DIVISION

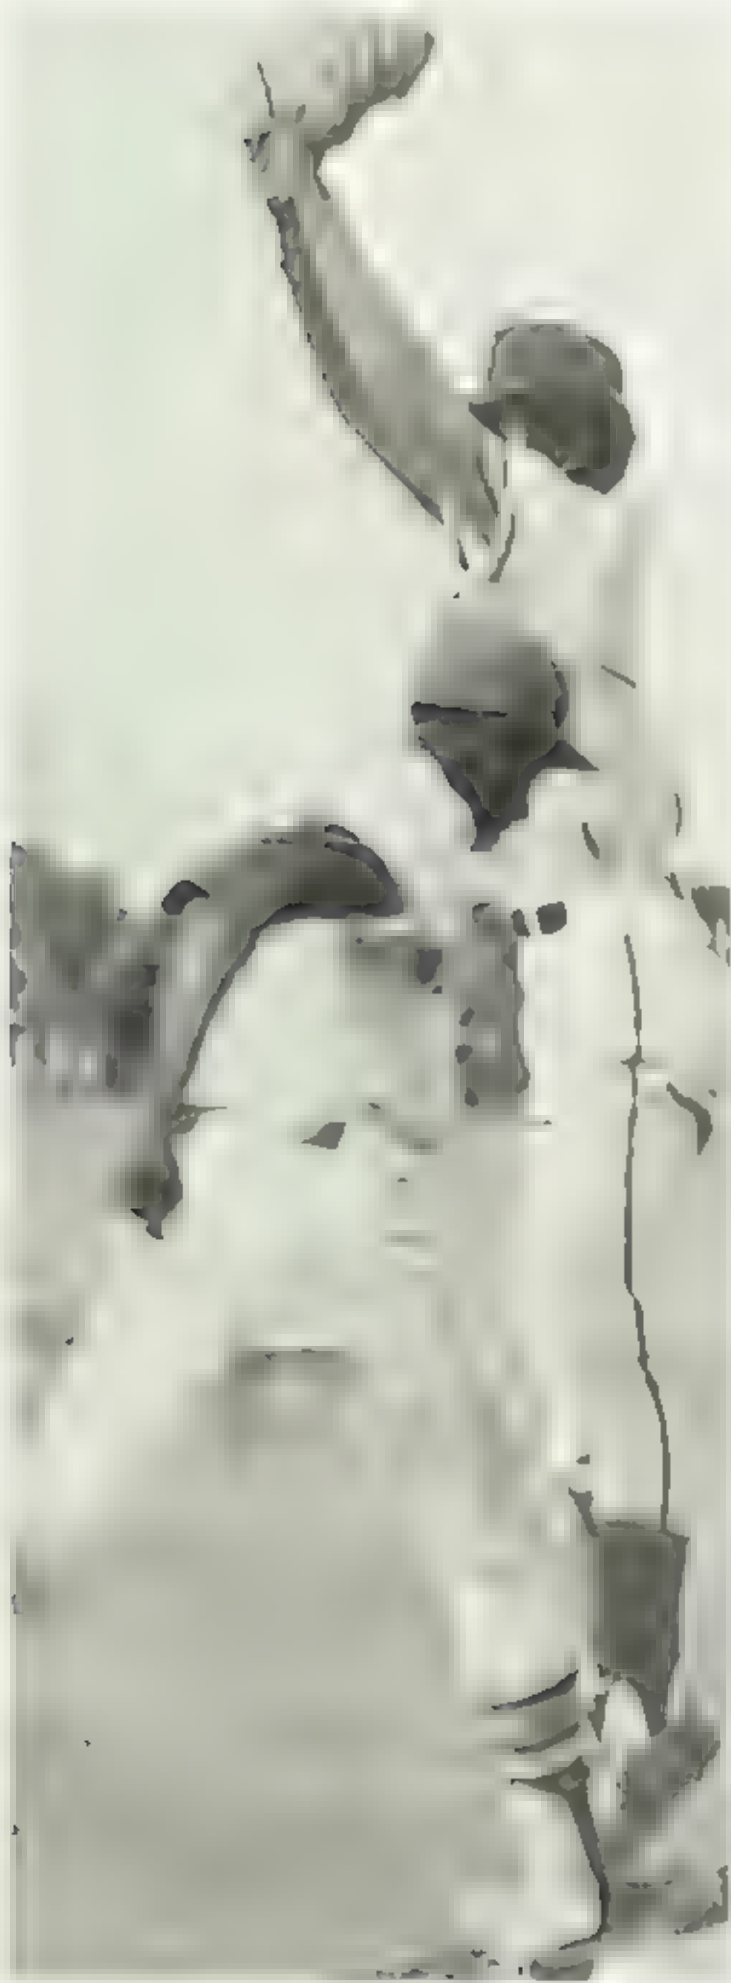

Our football team had a very successful season. We won the White Division, North, with a 3-1-1 record. It was a team effort and no one individual can be credited as having been outstanding, because everyone gave one-hundred per cent.

Austin stopped us in the city playoffs when we made three bad plays, making the score Austin 19, Marshall 0 in the first quarter. However, we fought back and brought the score to a respectable final of Austin 25, Marshall 19. Looking forward to the tough Red Division are returning first stringers Glenn Love, Anthony Harris, Robert Cole, John Armstrong and Robert Johnson. With hard work, and a little bit of luck, we hope to be the next city champs.

After a very successful season, our fencing team, coached by Mr. J. Mays, and assisted by Mr. A. Sauer, took its annual trip downstate to participate in the State Invitational Tournament. After exceptionally rugged competition, our team emerged with second place honors. This was an honorable achievement since our school cannot afford the electrical equipment which is used in the State tournament. The other teams in the tournament have this equipment at their schools and, thus, did not step into an unfamiliar situation. In the individual category, our Andre Maher took third place, while captain Nathaniel Haywood, having his difficulties fencing lefties, took seventh place.

One of the highlights of the year was a one half hour TV special on channel 5, devoted entirely to our fencing team. Coach Mays feels that this year's fencing team was the most competent, intelligent, and sportsman-like group of young men that he has ever had the pleasure of coaching.

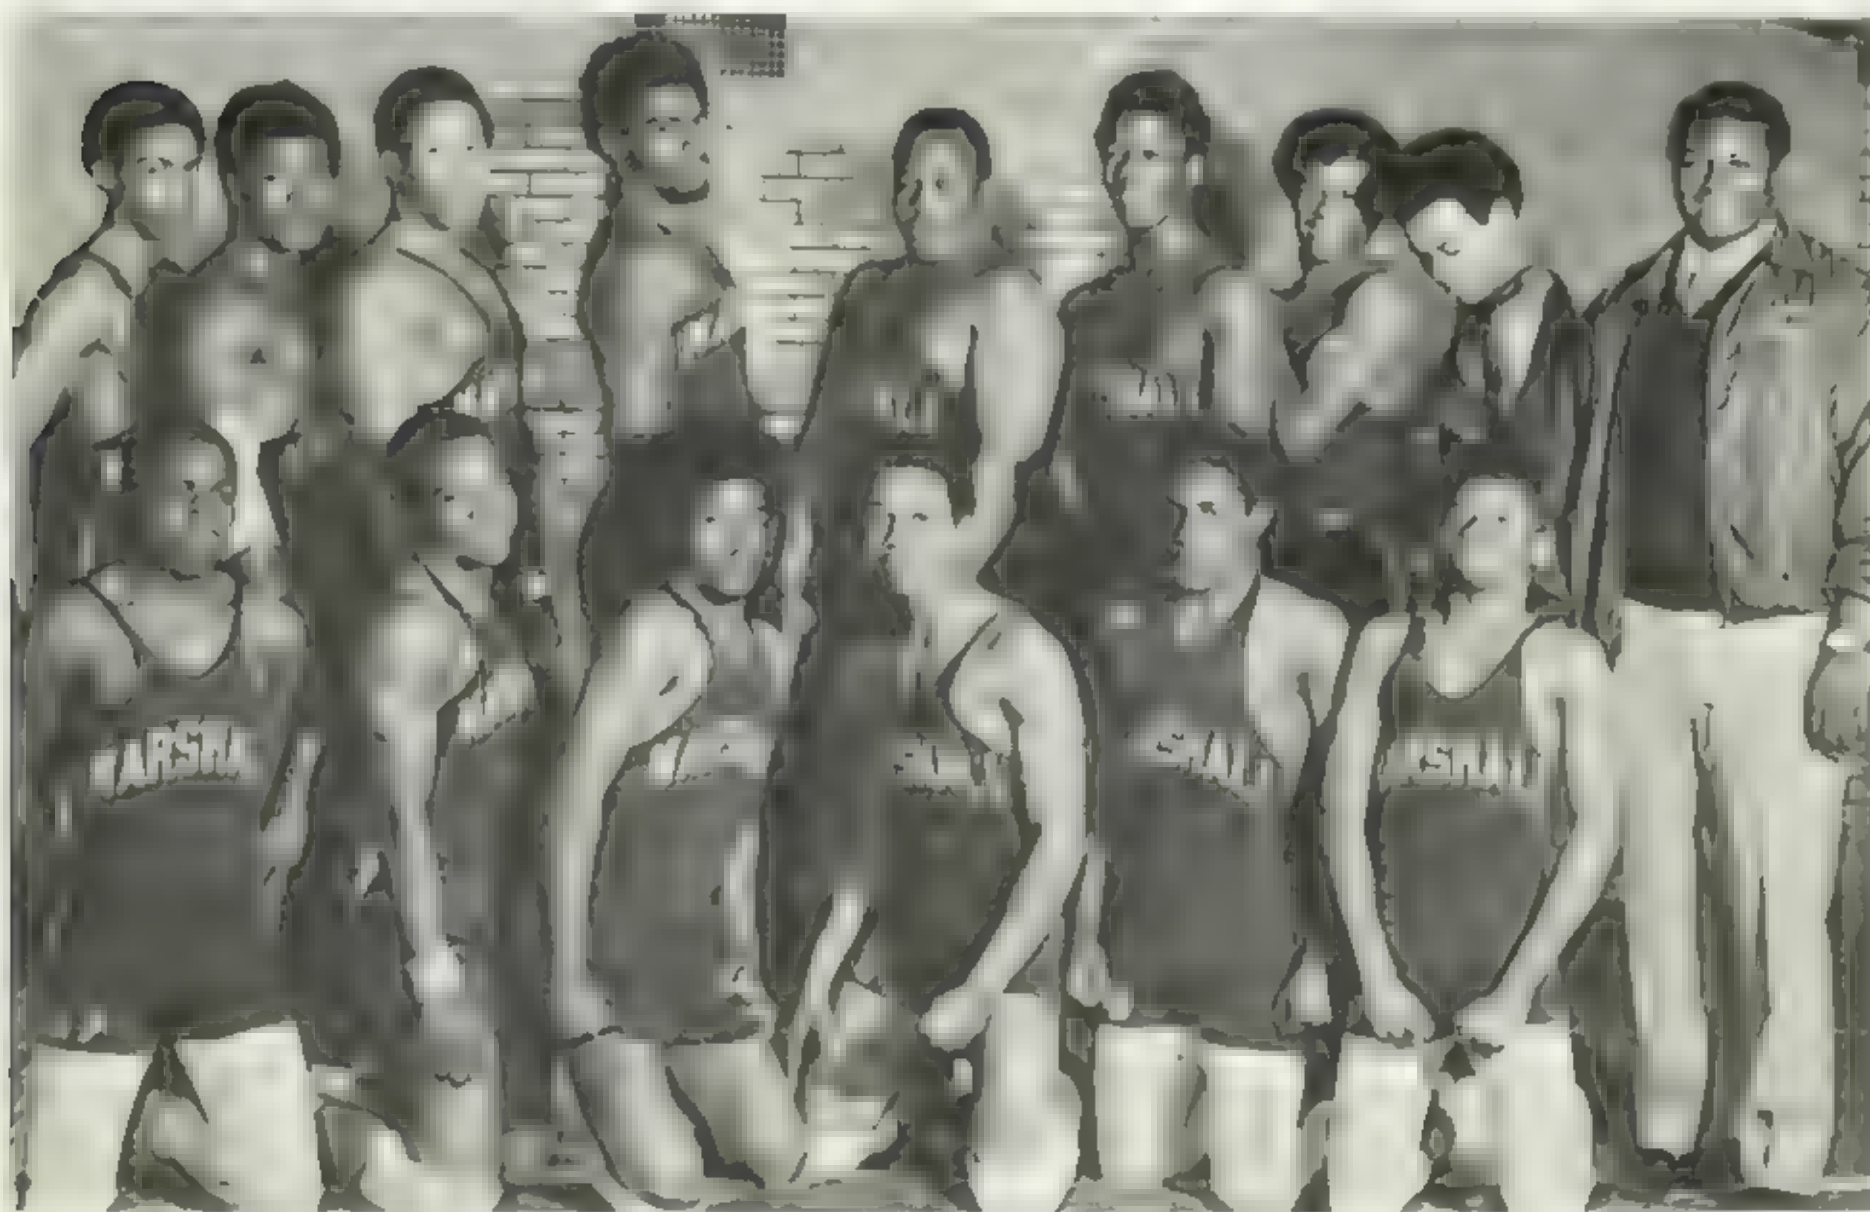

WRESTLING TEAM TAKES WEST SECTION

This year our wrestling team had an impressive overall record of 11 wins and 4 losses. We finished first in our section with a 6-1 record, losing only to Farragut by a narrow margin. In the individual championships at Navy Pier, we went from a 1970 last place finish to a 1971 sixth place finish. Taking individual honors were: Tyrone Ward, 1st place, 112 lbs.; Leon Haley, 2nd place, 185 lbs. Tyrone Ward also took second place honors in his weight division at the Illinois State High School Wrestling Championships.

The prospects for next year are excellent, with the return of such stars as Joe Lymon, Silvester Tart, Don McPearson, Orson Ward, Captain Tyrone Ward, Stanley Hemingway, George Ivy, Sherman Reed, Jackie Roberson, Johnny White, Anthony Williams, Willie Brown, and Charles Stacy.

The team is balanced, strong in the middle distances, but lacking outstanding sprinters, which we have had in the past. Our relays are outstanding on the state level of competition, with steady and consistent performances by all four members of the teams. This Spring David Beasley, Edgar Fisher, Eddie Donnell, Eric Atkins, along with the relay teams should provide championship performances. Eric Atkins, a sophomore, will be in the forefront of track and field in Illinois for two more years.
